The SENTINEL

43rd YEAR, NUMBER 95 | SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1967 | 2724 GARNET AVE., PACIFIC BEACH, CALIF

CAMERAMAN'S WONDERLAND—The rugged, spray-stung Sunset Cliffs have long been a magnet drawing wanderers, photography bugs, and amateur naturalists, who are fascinated by mighty seas thrashing the stolid cliffs. The Senate recently defeated the first stages of a proposal to construct a sandy beach along these rocky shores.

Cliffs Group 'Wins' Big Battle Over Beach Study

Sand has been banned from the Sunset Cliffs for the time being.

During the lull between the end of one long battle and the continuation of another, Preservation League members are taking a satisfied look at their position.

The United States Senate subcommittee on appropriations has failed to pass the section of the Public Works Bill requesting $75,000 for the final study to construct a sandy beach at the foot of Sunset Cliffs.

The Preservation League has gone on record as opposing the sandy beach. The fight over the past several years has brought league members into discussion with the Army Corps of Engineers, local government, and Federal authorities.

A series of polite requests that the city of San Diego consider building revetments and dikes at the foot of the cliffs would have been to no avail, had the $75,000 bill been passed, said Preservation League President Arthur Raff.

The bill was defeated in a joint meeting of Senate and House last week.

The House had passed the Public Works Bill, which then went to the Senate. Testimony by the Army Corps of Engineers, Preservation League representatives, and Congressman Bob Wilson, (R-San Diego), was given before a Senate subcommittee.

The subcommittee denied the request, which would have allotted funds for the final planning and design of the beach.

When the Senate, acting upon the recommendation of the subcommittee, denied the request, the bill went into conference to settle the dispute.

The House yielded to the Senate, and the $75,000 for beach erosion study was cut out of the 1967 Public Works Appropriations bill.

Had the funds been approved, construction of the beach would have been virtually automatic, according to Dr. Raff.

The Army Corps of Engineers can take no further action until and unless Congress authorizes the $75,000 next year.

Congressman Wilson's office expressed doubt that the proposal will be introduced next year.

Spokesmen said the defeat of the bill is in part due to the nation's tight economic situation. Since no one knows whether the situation will improve next year, it is too early to predict what will happen with next year's budget.

Wilson may decide not to push the matter, although he emphasized the importance of some erosion control along the crumbling cliffs.

Congress' mood is one of economy, Wilson noted.

Possible inflation and a rise in taxes could curtail the Army Corps of Engineers activities for several years.

The moratorium will hold for at least a year. In that time, Preservation League members hope to continue discussion with local government and with Washington.

Everything is quiet for the time being, but the league's attorney expects to hold meetings with city hall as soon as new councilmen and Mayor Curran are sworn in.

District Two Councilman-elect Sam Loftin, who had promised to support the league in his campaign speeches, will be briefed on the situation when he is sworn into office.

Reading over the Senate subcommittee testimony, league members noted what they regard as another significant argument in favor of revetments.

State law specifies a certain number of parking spaces per number of people, and Army Corps of Engineer plans for the sandy beach are allegedly deficient.

The Army Corps of Engineers plans to construct a portion of the required parking spaces above the cliffs and beach, according to the subcommittee report.

Sunset Cliffs Preservation League members fear that either there will not be sufficient parking in the ACE's plans, or else the ACE will be forced to construct additional parking above the cliffs, adding to an already impossible traffic situation or tearing down the very houses erosion control was expected to protect.

PHASE NO. 2 INVESTIGATED

Town Council Roots For Beach Phase 1

The fledgling Ocean Beach Town Council is beginning to get to the root of local controversy.

In the town council's first official stand on specific issues affecting the community, members last week voted to approve Phase One of Ocean Beach Park landscaping.

Though the council expressed its support for Phase One, "lack of information" prevented the group from taking a stand on the proposed extension of West Point Loma Boulevard along the beach.

Residents and members can come to grips with the issue at the Dec. 7 public meeting of the town council, according to Secretary Marion Pena.

Last week the executive board met to hear realtor Jack Wardlow and other opponents of the proposal outline their feelings.

Member Dick Thorpe noted that the council took no stand, pending the availability of more information and more public discussion.

"Phase One" of the city Park and Recreation Department's plans for Ocean Beach Park calls for landscaping and paving either end of the beach, creating picnic and parking areas.

The proposal, passed a short while ago, would provide for development of all but the two blocks in question for the beach road.

Should Give

"Ocean Beach has long needed these kinds of improvements," said Thorpe. "We felt that as an organization supporting whatever is good for the area, we should give our approval of the city's plan."

The unanimous vote included several members who have voiced opposition to the beach road.

The town council is throwing open the Dec. 7 meeting to discussion of the beach road proposal, and at the same time is eagerly seeking other suggestions from the community as to what improvements are required in Ocean Beach.

Reports Due

Preliminary committees to investigate some of the problems already mentioned will present their reports at the meeting to be held at Point Loma Methodist Church, 1984 Sunset Cliffs Blvd.

Plans are forming for an official installation of officers to be held in January.

Officers are Ned Titlow, president; Mrs. Jean Ross, vice president; Don Heller, second vice president; Marion Pena, secretary, and Lamar Hunt, treasurer.

The Ocean Beach Town Council wishes to announce the opening of their office at 1835 Bacon St., and invites anyone with suggestions to drop by and say hello.

Training Center Has Flag Status At Last

"Gentlemen, I'm happy to be aboard," signalled the beginning of RAdm Allen A. Bergner's command over the Navy's "Training Capital of the World" Friday.

A thunderous 13-gun salute and a drill review of the entire brigade welcomed RAdm Bergner in ceremonies held on the Naval Training Center's parade field.

The arrival of the Admiral gave NTC "Flag Status" for the first time in its 44-year history.

The first two-star Admiral to take command of the NTC, Bergner will direct the largest collection of Naval training facilities of any city in the United States.

Bergner succeeds Capt. R. H. Lockwood as commandant in ceremonies held under a bright blue sky, with rank upon rank of seamen standing at attention before a speaker's stand crowded with visiting dignitaries from all the commands in San Diego.

As the smoke of the 13-gun salute rose to the sky, the Admiral read the orders directing him to relieve Capt. Lockwood, who had served as Center Commander on a temporary basis.

RAdm Bergner praised the condition of the base in a brief speech, before the brigade, in dress blues with formal white duty belts and leggings, passed in review.

The recruit choir and drum and bugle corps provided marching music.

The occasion afforded visitors a chance to observe an impressive display of the kind of military discipline drilled into raw recruits.

The Naval Training Center gives a young recruit his first taste of the Navy life. The primary training he receives here provides the neophyte seaman with a basic knowledge of seamanship and an orientation into way of the Navy.

More Serious

The challenge to provide complete training for a young recruit has been heightened by the Vietnam conflict. RAdm Bergner will face the primary task of preparing American boys and ships for duty in Southeast Asia.

In order to meet his training obligations, the Commander, Training Command, has seven subordinate commands and two specialized units under his jurisdiction.

The range of Adm Bergner's command extends across the northern Pacific from San Diego to Yokosuka, Japan.

As the Commander of the largest Naval training center in the nation, RAdm Bergner must meet a critical challenge.

The need for increased Naval participation and activity in the Vietnam conflict, along with advancements in technology and application of weapons systems to meet both "brushfire" wars and a possible all-out war, demand the highest efficiency from NTC personnel.

Big Cleanup Proposed For Bicentennial

A clean-up approach similar to Montreal's during Expo '67 has been proposed by Councilman Jack Walsh to "dress-up" San Diego for the city's 200th anniversary in 1969.

In a letter to Tom Ham, president of the 200th Anniversary Committee, Walsh said that private efforts should be initiated to parallel various public improvements scheduled in conjunction with the bicentennial celebration.

Walsh said the program, with no financial participation by government, and no new restrictions on property, was "highly successful" in Montreal. Walsh said that homeowners and storeowners there were encouraged to clean up their property, fix up their homes and stores, plant trees or carry out some other property improvement.

Walsh said that speakers visited various service clubs, neighborhood organizations, and other groups in the Canadian project in an effort to encourage beautification.

Incentives

Walsh suggested that in San Diego some cooperative programs between government and citizens might be accelerated, but property owners would be responsible for most of the improvements.

He said plaques or medallions might be presented to the first hundred or five hundred persons participating.

"This project could not only assure that San Diego would offer a sparkling red carpet to guests in 1969," said Walsh, "but it would achieve some important lasting enhancements." Walsh said that if the 200th anniversary committee is interested that promotion of the project should start in January or the Spring of 1968.

Walsh said that one of the major objectives of the 200th anniversary committee should be to see that "when visitors arrive they see San Diego at its best—clean neat, and comfortable."

Walsh said that the private program would compliment public projects already planned including the proposed downtown street tree planting program, development of Spanish Landing Park, and the landscaping of Harbor Drive and other major streets, and additional development of Mission Bay and Balboa Parks.

Post Office Sets Deadlines For Mailing

Deadlines for mailing packages overseas have been established by the Post Office.

Foreign mailing: Air mail packages to the Near East and Far East should be mailed by Dec. 10; to Europe and South America by Dec. 15.

Within the U.S.: Surface mail (weighing over five pounds) should be sent to the East Coast and Midwest by Dec. 5; on the West Coast by Dec. 14.

Air mail packages should be mailed to the East and Midwest, Alaska and Hawaii by Dec. 15.

Dinner Dance

A "Harvest-Hoe-Down" dinner dance will be held next Saturday by Point Loma Council 3947 Knights of Columbus at 8 pm. in St. Charles Borromeo's Hall. Joseph La Rocco is chairman of the dance which is a casual dress affair. A grand prize will be awarded at the end of the dance.

Planners Have End In Sight

The long haul is nearly over.

Peninsulans Inc., the community planning organization, is readying for a series of public meetings.

The annual meeting held last week crystalized plans for the next few months, and elected a new slate of officers.

To be held after the Christmas season, the public meetings will present the community with the final result, still only a "first draft" of the plan which has occupied Peninsulans Inc. for the past two years.

Specific plans about how to conduct the meetings are being discussed now by the planning group.

Begin Third Year

The last few months, probably the toughest, according to members, are technically the beginning of the third year of operation.

Officers for the new term will see the plan through to completion.

Continuing in the presidency is Chuck Bahde. Jack Wardlow, Jr. is vice president; Helen Fane, second vice president; Larry Callahan, treasurer; Marion Pena, executive secretary; Page Cummins, corresponding secretary.

The group made minor changes in the bylaws and elected a new board of directors, who include: Chuck Baldwin, Herb Boggs, Frances Brennan, Joan Farman, Angie Fox, Richard Lareau, Kay Martin, Howard Minor, Sim Bruce Richards, Joe Richardson, Billie Riley, Dan Rowland, Tom J. R. Smith Betty Tate, and Spike Webb.

UCSD Grid

Sea Forks Will Play Next Year

Footall is coming to the University of California, San Diego.

A football team will take its place along side 17 other intercollegiate teams representing UCSD in athletic competition next year.

Walt Hackett, former member of the San Diego Chargers staff, will coach the first UCSD team, The Tritons. Hackett has been a member of the UCSD physical education staff for the past year.

Howard Hunt, director of athletics at UCSD, announced that competition will be sought with institutions of approximately the same undergraduate enrollment and having similar academic requirements.

New Campus Field

The Tritons will play their home contests on Saturday afternoons on their new campus field, bordering Miramar Road and Interstate Five.

According to Hunt, athletic programs at UCSD are born out of the personal interest of the students. All 17 intercollegiate teams were created because of the enthusiasm of the student body. The movement towards football has been underway on the campus for some time now. Once enough student interest was manifested the go-ahead for the formation of a team was given.

Students believe the UCSD enthusiasm can build the Tritons into a first rate team.

Big Surprises Come Tonight

Pleasant surprises are due tonight for peninsula residents.

The Peninsula Chamber of Commerce annual dinner starts with a social hour at 7 p.m. today at Yacht Harbor Inn 1021 Scott St. Tickets will be available at the door, $5 per person covers dinner and entertainment.

Have you wondered what the bicentennial in 1969 can mean to you? Tom Ham, Jr. will answer the question with an address entitled "The Peninsula's Part in the Bicentennial."

What is it really like for our fighting men in Vietnam? Hear Sgt. Jimmie Howard, recently awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor, give the answer straight from the shoulder.

Dinner music will be played by the Point Loma Strings.

Yule Palms? You Bet, In Ocean Beach!

Final approval by the city means Ocean Beach children can play some part in the town's Christmas celebration after all.

The city has given permission to decorate palm trees on Newport.

Now the Peninsula Chamber of Commerce can move ahead full steam in getting some decorations up before December.

The plan involves harnessing the "child power" of Ocean Beach to decorate the palms. Any youth group under the supervision of an adult for instance Scout groups, schools, or church groups, can decorate a tree.

All that is required is a little imagination and a lot of "getting on the ball," according to Wendy Reynolds, a member of the Chamber decorating committee.

Any age group chidren (or even adults), may enter the contest for the best decorations.

First step is "to claim your tree," according to Mrs. Reynolds.

The city will allow the children to decorate the palms provided that no nails staples, wire or rope is used. String, thread and rubber bands are acceptable

Non - breakable materials such as plastic, styrofoam, paper, or any other material which would not cause injury if it falls from the trees should be used.

The work will be supervised by an adult who will take all necessary safety precautions to prevent injury.

The work should begin as soon as possible. Mrs. Reynolds says she has several groups already drawing up plans.

Removal

The decorations will be removed before Jan. 14 by the groups that put them up.

The competition, with trophies awarded as prizes, will be scored by a panel of judges on Dec. 9.

Mrs. Reynolds hopes the plan can involve children in their community and can make them feel more a part of Christmas.

The contest will run concurrently with a plan to put decorated pine trees on the lamp posts.

Idealism Runs High At San Diego State

San Diego State is now the 23rd largest contributor of Peace Corps Volunteers, among 2,500 colleges and universities in the nation, according to Edward M. Webb, college Peace Corps liaison officer.

As of October 16, at least 180 volunteers, including 61 now serving overseas, had been selected for Peace Corps service.

Of those who have gone from San Diego State, 40 have served in sub-Saharan Africa, 31 in East Asia and the Pacific islands, 86 in Latin America, and 23 in North Africa and Southern Asia, Webb said.

Six other California schools fall into the top 50 Peace Corps suppliers.

They include University of California, Berkeley, first with 922 volunteers; San Francisco State, tenth with 308; San Jose State, twelfth with 300, and Cal State at Santa Barbara, 21st with 189 Peace Corps volunteers.

San Diego State ranked 24th last year for total volunteers produced since 1961 when the program was started.

The college also trains volunteers for programs in Jamaica and Latin America. It assists in the administration of a Peace Corps development center in Escondido, the first of its kind in the United States.

Except for the military, the Peace Corps is now the largest single employer of college graduates. More than 3.2 per cent of 1967's 562,000 graduating college seniors applied for voluntary service. Of these 18,000 80 per cent received invitations to train for an overseas assignment.

Inscrutable China Puzzle Taken Apart

Is it true that an optimist learns to speak Russian and a pessimist learns Chinese?

Should Communist China be admitted to the United Nations? Is our present isolation of mainland China realistic? These questions and the history of our involvement with China will be explored Thursday when a panel of experts will discuss "The China Puzzle" at the First Unitarian Church, 4190 Front St.

The program is sponsored by the League of Women Voters.

Panel moderator will be Dr. Irma Gross, a member of the League. Dr. Young Hum Kim, professor of history and political science and chairman of the history department at California Western University will discuss the history of U.S.-China relations.

Dr. Arthur W. Schatz, assistant professor of history at San Diego State, will discuss our present foreign policy toward Red China. Dr. Richard C. Gripp, professor of political science at San Diego State will talk about alternatives to our present policy.

Mrs. Tennie Thatcher, China study chairman for the League of Women Voters said, "We are presenting this program in an effort to stimulate public dialogue concerning China. This is part of a two year national study sponsored by the League which has no stand on the issue.

All of us want to learn more about "The China Puzzle." We feel that there are many facets of the problem which should be explored and that avenues of exploration should be easily available to all members of the community."

Mrs. Mary Helen Abbey, San Diego League president, said, "We urge everyone to attend the program. There will be a well qualified group of speakers on a vital subject, and there will be opportunities for questions from the floor."

There will be a registration donation of 50 cents per person.

Aztec Salute Planned

A city-wide "Salute to Don Coryell and the San Diego State Aztec Football Team" will be celebrated at the Community Concourse Convention Hall on Dec. 14 according to Mr. Edward Johnson. President of the College Area Kiwanis Club, sponsors of the event.

"I have never seen so much enthusiasm as that being generated for this great San Diego State Football Team," Johnson said, "The Aztec Club, The San Diego State Alumni Association and the Greater San Diego Sports Association have joined in this effort to salute Coach Coryell and his team."

County Supervisor Henry A. Boney, a Kiwanis Club member, will be chairman for the evening which will begin with a 7 p.m. banquet. Highlight of the program will be a presentation of awards to Coryell and members of the team. Civic officials and sports figures will be on hand to express the community's appreciation to the winningest team in San Diego State's history. The San Diego State Band will add a musical salute.

The Aztecs have focused national attention on San Diego by being named the Number One College Division Team in the nation. They are undefeated in 25 previous outings and are set to take on Utah State University Saturday night in San Diego Stadium.

Johnson said "2500 tickets for the December 14 'Salute' will be on sale starting today at the Aztec Club Office and at many sporting goods stores around San Diego. An early sellout is expected.

Top Three Seniors Battle At LJ

The top three senior players in the nation backed by the largest field in the event's 20-year history set the stage for the National Senior Hardcourt Tennis Championships now under way at La Jolla Beach and Tennis Club through Sunday, Dec. 3.

Bob Sherman of Temple City, Emery Neale of Portland and Bob Galloway of La Jolla, ranked one through three respectively in men's senior singles by the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association, head the 80-member men's singles draw. All are former hardcourt titlists here, Sherman in 1965, Neale last year and Galloway in 1964.

Louis Schopfer of Memphis, National Indoor senior titlist, heads a tough field of challengers including former hardcourt champions Chauncey Steele, Jr. of Cambridge, Mass. and Bill Lurie of San Pedro. Others include Bert Brown, Dr. Nate Goldstein and Charles Lass of Los Angeles; Glenn Hippenstiel of Fresno, number ten nationally; Col. William Stack, Washington DC.; Norman Brooks, San Mateo; and Bill Millikan, La Jolla.

In women's singles Dorothy Cheney will seek her 11th straight championship. The Santa Monica matron will face opposition from Mary Prentiss, many-time runner-up from Highland, Calif.; Pat Yeomans of Los Angeles; and Gerry Carter of Los Altos.

A companion event, the National Father-and-Son Hardcourt Doubles Tournament, also has the strongest field in its history.

CIF Title Shot Slips From Grasp Of Kearny's 'Still Proud' Komets

AGONY IN THE MUD—Kearny High quarterback Wayne Oberrueter falls to his knees in despair moments after the final gun sounded, leaving his team one foot short of a touchdown that would have won the SDCIF semifinal game Wednesday night. As it was, Lincoln prevailed, 7-6, although the Komets outplayed the Hornets most of the way. Sentinel photo by Larry Littlefield.

By LARRY LITTLEFIELD

Kearny High football players can return to school tomorrow, heads held high.

Knowing that they were the best football team on the muddy, horribly sloppy, Balboa Stadium turf Wednesday evening should help them to hide their disappointment.

There was a short show of temper as the Komets entered the bus, following a 7-6 loss to Lincoln High in the San Diego CIF semifinals, but assistant coach Jack Menotti quickly quelled it.

Learning to accept defeat is always a tough lesson, but it was particularly hard for Kearny, a team that outhit, out ran and did everything but outscore its opponent.

"One pass, one lousy pass," head coach Birt Slater moaned. "That's what beat us. We were inside their 20 four times, they were inside ours once."

Lincoln's Hornets, voted in as the "at large" team for the playoffs, were favored, but won't be in the championship against St. Augustine next Friday. Not based on their performances against Kearny.

The field was in horrible condition and rain fell almost continually. What might have happened under ideal weather conditions will never be known.

The one fateful pass that Slater referred to was a 30-yarder from Lincoln's highly touted quarterback Jerry Powell to end Mike Chapman who sprinted up the right sideline and had two steps on the Komet defender. That tied the game at 6-6 and Powell's conversion gave the Hornets their winning margin.

It capped Lincoln's only real drive of the game, a 56-yarder.

Kearny struck first after Ted Mack intercepted a Powell pass, one of three rifled aerials for the evening by the Komet alert secondary.

It gave Kearny the ball at the 18. Mike Wiencek dashed five yards and quarterback Wayne Oberrueter, playing a superb game, took it the remaining 12 yards on a rollout in the rain.

Charlie Costello attempted to boot the extra point, but the ball slithered wide to the left.

That was mild compared to the frustration the Komets felt in the final minute as Kearny moved to the Lincoln seven with 44 seconds left.

Oberrueter twice attempted to run the ball over instead of passing out of bounds to stop the clock. The Komets tried desperately to line up fast enough for another play but the referees stood over the ball to allow Lincoln time enough to get ready. The gun sounded and Lincoln players danced off the field and splashed like children in the pool of water at the south end of the stadium.

Kearny players walked dejectedly from the field. Some cried.

It was the end of a fine year from the Western League champions, who surprised pre-season forecasters by overcoming their small size.

Recalling an old saying, tough Komet linebacker Rick Henry said earlier in the season, "It's not the size of the dog in the fight, but the size of the fight in the dog."

And Kearny's Komets had considerable fight.

Kiwanis Tourney Pairings Slated

Four teams from the Western League have been placed in the unlimited divisions and three others will go into the limted class for the 21st annual Kiwanis Basketball Tournament, Dec. 15-19.

First round games Dec. 15 find Kearny vs. San Diego and Clairemont vs. Monte Vista at Mesa College in 7 and 8:30 p.m. unlimited games, while Point Loma faces Granite Hills at 5:30 p.m. and Madison takes on Helix at 7 p.m. at Grossmont College.

In the limited division, Mission Bay meets Castle Park at Southwestern College at 8:30 p.m., while La Jolla battles Marian at 4 p.m. and University draws Coronado at 5:30 at Mesa.

It will again be a double elimination tourney with finals set Dec. 19 and San Diego State's Peterson gym.

USD Gyms Get Facelift For Torero Cage Debut

When the University of San Diego Toreros launch their basketball season against Cal Poly, Pomona on next Friday, they will be playing in the same gymnasium as before but there will be a different look.

An extensive facelifting project has just been completed that including waterproofing and refinishing the floor and the addition of 400 more seats to boost the gymnasium's seating capacity to 2200.

The entire project cost $10,000 with students contributing for the cost of adding more seats.

Coach Phil Woolpert's Toreros will play a 19-game schedule and they will participate in two tournaments, one at California Western University and also, at the University of California, Irvine, both in December.

Another feature of the schedule will be the playing of a game in the new San Diego Sports Arena scheduled for December 9 against cross-town rival San Diego State. The game, to begin at 7 p.m. will precede a game between the San Diego Rockets and Los Angeles Lakers.

Woolpert has eight lettermen back from last year's team that had a 14-11 record including his two top scorers, Ted Fields (17.2 avg.) and Rick Cabrera (14.4 avg.) Also returning are Durel Carpenter, the team's top rebounder with 175, and Gus Magee, who grabbed 165 rebounds. Bill Sheridan, a guard who scored 246 points, Jim Wilke, Jim Allen and Dan Wightman, the latter who sat out last year after earning a letter two years ago round out the veterans.

The Toreros will take one trip into the Northwest this season when they travel in late January to Idaho for a game with the University of Idaho and to Spokane, Washington to meet Gonzaga University.

USD will also meet Fresno State and Los Angeles State from the CCA along with a pair of games with California Western, and a single game with strong Nevada Southern. Others on the schedule are Redlands, Westmont, Cal, Irvine, Chapman and Whittier.

Lomans Second, Becker Top Man

Point Loma's cross country team finished second in the San Diego CIF finals Wednesday, but Kearny's Steve Becker was the top man for the Western League.

Ric Amador was Point Loma's top runner and finished sixth, with teammates Dave Hull and Don Ludwig placing ninth and 10th respectively.

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK: JOYCE HOFFMAN— The top woman surfer in the world. Joyce still manages to catch a few waves in the winter season, but never lets it interfere with her school work at Cal Western University, where she is a straight "A" student.

Joyce, 20, is a sophomore and is taking general education courses with her main interests in recreation.

Her surfing ability has literally taken her around the world. Now, whenever the surf is good, she foots it to the cliffs below campus to catch a few waves.

Send Mail To Get There

All mailers of Christmas parcels are reminded of the below schedule so that all items may reach their destinations on time:

Airmail to overseas military personnel, Dec. 1-Dec. 11; airmail to foreign countries by Dec. 10; surface mail to Eastern and Midwest states by Dec. 5 and surface mail to Alaska and Hawaii, by Thursday.

Complete and legible address of military mail going overseas is a must. In order to insure delivery the serviceman's grade, full name and serial number, his military unit, gateway post office, and APO or FPO with a five digit number, are all necessary.

City Transit Men Fight Pollution

"The San Diego Transit Corporation is fully aware of the problems of air pollution and is taking measures to hold down air contamination by city buses," said Tom O. Prior, general manager, in answer to a letter from Deputy Mayor Jack Walsh.

In his letter, Walsh had asked Clinton D. McKinnon, president of the San Diego Transit Corporation, "whether we are doing all we can right here in San Diego to limit the amount of pollutants which we dump into the sky each day."

Speaking for the Transit Corporation, Prior said that 85 of the 200 buses now in service will soon be replaced by 100 new buses due to arrive in San Diego in the next two months.

"These new buses," Prior said, "will be equipped with an improved type of catalytic muffler. The catalyst consists of chemically coated ceramic pellets approximately one-fourth inch in diameter. The catalyst is contained between stainless steel grids and a large diameter pipe plug in the muffler end is provided for adding the catalyst or for recharging when necessary. The muffler requires 40 pounds of catalyst."

Prior said that the distribution of gas flow across the complete grid causes catalyst particles to be agitated and remain in intimate contact with the exhaust gases, resulting in a reaction which changes character of the exhaust. Agitation also reduces carbon build-up in the catalytic bed. This reduces smoke by 5.5 per cent, odors by 14 per cent, hydrocarbons by 53 per cent and aldehydes by 32 per cent.

"As older equipment is retired from service," Prior said, "the Transit Corporation will continue to acquire modern buses which will incorporate the latest and most efficient equipment for minimizing exhaust emissions.

"However," Prior added, "deisel engines are much less offensive than the internal combustion engines of passenger automobiles. The type of fuel combined with more nearly complete combustion produce minimal air contaminants."

Catholic Colleges To Conduct College Day

The Southern California Catholic Colleges will present a College Information Panel at St. Augustine High School gym, 32nd at Nutmeg Streets Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Students, parents and counselors are invited to attend and receive information on selecting a college, applying for admission and obtaining financial aid.

Panel moderator will be M. E. L'Heureux of Loyola University. Sister Joseph Adele, of Mount St. Mary's College, will tell how to select a college. Gilbert Swift, of Immaculate Heart College, will speak on admission requirements and Irene Kelly, of Marymount College on financial aid. Rev. I. Brent Eagan, of University of San Diego, will present a profile of the Southern California Catholic Colleges.

The audience will participate in a question and answer session after the panel presentation.

The association of admissions counselors of the Southern California Catholic Colleges was formed in San Diego in 1965 and has conducted more than 40 programs throughout Southern California.

Very Rev. William Sullivan, senior counselor at St. Augustine High School, will be co-ordinator for the program on Nov. 28.

The panel will present the program at St. Bernardine's High School in San Bernardino on Thursday, Nov. 30, for schools in the Riverside-San Bernardino area. Sr. Jeanne d'Arc, principal of St. Bernardine's High School will be co-ordinator.

Rumanian Minister To Speak

"The only hope of conquering Communism is by making Christians out of Communists," Rumanian-refugee Pastor Richard Wurmbrand will tell his San Diego audience Tuesday when he combines with anti-communist evangelist Billy James Hargis to present a religious-patriotic rally in the Ballroom of the House of Hospitality, Balboa Park at 7:30 p.m., admission $1.

Following the seizure of Rumania by Soviet Russia in 1945, says Rev. Wurmbrand, the Communists immediately began to enforce their control of all churches and religion, and Pastor Wurmbrand then went "underground" to carry on his Christian ministry.

Arrested in 1948, along with his wife, the Lutheran pastor, who had been one of Rumania's most widely known Christian leaders and educators, ultimately served 14 years in various Communist prisons.

"It was during my imprisonment that I began to realize that Communists, having the religion of hatred, know they cannot conquer unless they crush the Christian religion of love. Christians, however, should know that if they do not win Communists for Christ, they will lose their souls, but I saw with my own eyes, and experienced personally the thrill of seeing some of our very torturers won to Christ through genuine love."

Pastor Wurmbrand's appearance is part of a nationwide tour he is making, to urge support for the underground church behind the Iron Curtain, sponsored by Dr. Hargis' Christian Crusade organization.

To Your Health

By SIR SPUNKY

Fifty-three thousand people lost their lives in highway accidents last year for no better reason than that somebody was careless or ill-equipped for the task of driving.

But there was another reason too, and a group of doctors considering the problem at an American Medical Association meeting put their fingers squarely on it.

Most of the deaths, it was pointed out, are not directly due to the injury sustained, but to failure in getting the victim hospitalized in time.

Dr. Joseph D. Farrington, a surgeon experienced in the treatment of accident victims, noted that 70 per cent of last year's deaths occurred in or near small rural communities where traffic is sparse and pedestrians infrequent.

As a result, he observed, "most of the victims dying at the scene had been there for an hour or more at the time of their death."

The majority of fatalities resulted not from primary injuries but from shock or failure of the respiratory system. In many such cases death can be avoided if ambulance service and emergency medical or surgical care is available in time.

How to avert such needless tragedies? "Just as every community must have adequate fire and police protection," Dr. Farrington said, "they should have adequate protection from death and disability due to improper care and transport." He declared this to be "a responsibility of the medical profession" primarily, and urged the assembled physicians to undertake a program of education whereby the general public would be made aware of the need to support improved ambulance service.

Foreign Cars Ruled Against

It will be illegal to drive the 1968 models of 11 makes of automobiles or trucks in California on and after Dec. 1, 1967.

Department of Motor Vehicles Director Verne Orr said the following makes will be denied registration papers and license plates until they obtain exhaust control certification from the State Air Resources Board:

Alfa Romeo, Aston Martin, Ferraria, Fiat (except model 850), Glas, Lamborghini, Lancia, Maserati, NSU, Shelby (GT-350 and GT-500), Sunbeam.

Orr said dealers in these makes were notified by the Air Resources Board that their products do not meet California's exhaust control requirements, which in this case are also federal standards.

"State legislation enacted two years ago put manufacturers on notice that all new automobiles in California would have to be equipped with certified exhaust control devices not later than December 1 of this year," Orr stated.

"Eric P. Grant, Executive Officer of the Board, has advised me that manufacturers of all but the above makes have brought their products up to California standards, and have been certified by the board."

Motorcycles are not affected by the ruling.

Apes Of Gibraltar To Retire In San Diego

A cooperative effort between the British Army and the United States Navy is expected to result in the San Diego Zoo obtaining a pair of rare Barbary Apes.

The legendary Rock Apes, as they are also called, are being presented to the Navy by the British Garrison on Gibraltar, the famous fortress where the few remaining monkeys are now a tourist attraction.

The 289-man crew of the San Diego-based destroyer USS Parks (DD-884) recommended that the animals be donated to the San Diego Zoo. Each man personally contributed toward the cost of transportation from Gibraltar, according to the ship's captain, Commander Guy Morton Neely, Jr.

"The zoo, a favorite visiting spot of the men and their families, is known to have one of the world's most complete primate collections," CDR. Neely stated. "When we contacted officials there with the proposal, they expressed great enthusiasm about the possibility of adding these intriguing animals."

There are reportedly only 27 of these primates left on the island of Gibraltar, according to Clyde Hill, associate curator of mammals at the zoo, although there are many still living along the Barbary Coast of Africa, their original habitat.

He said the Barbaray Ape is a large, heavily-bodied monkey and is tailless—hence incorrectly referred to as an "ape."

"When the British took over the Rock in 1704, they found the monkeys living in a more or less wild condition and adopted them as lucky mascots," Hill said. "There is a story that the animals once saved the day by giving the Rock's garrison warning of a Spanish invasion. The tradition is that when the Barbary Apes leave Gibraltar, the days of the British there will be over, and this legend is taken very seriously."

A presentation ceremony by the officers and men of the Parks is expected to be held at the Zoo next week, after the monkeys arrive by air.

Choose Accessories With The 'New Look'

When choosing accessories for a man it is particularly important this Christmas to keep in mind the innovations in fashion.

The "tired old" choices will not do, at all. Shirts now put emphasis on French cuffs, so it behooves a well-dressed man to regard jewelry with new interest. Coordination is more important than ever.

French cuff shirts have opened up new styling vistas for jewelry. These shirts will be worn with nearly any kind of suit, but cuff links should be selected with regard for the type of outfit. With traditional or dressy suits, classic and conservative is best. Casual or contemporary suits will allow a man to be a bit more flamboyant in his jewelry selections.

Belts, too, should be keyed to the outfits with which they are worn. Choose casual-type belts to be used with sports outfits and the dressier leathers with business suits. However, keep in mind that the dress belt should also relate to the color scheme of the outfit and to the color of the shoes worn with the suit or the slacks.

The colorful fabric, webbing and elastic sport belts should pick up either the general color scheme of the outfit or should specifically relate to one of its major components such as the shirt, tie or ascot.

Scarfs add a fine sophisticated look to the open sport shirt collar and should be selected with the same care as a tie. The ascot should coordinate in both color and pattern with the outfit.

Replace worn, bulgy, overstuffed wallets, card cases and pocket secretaries with a new slim assortment that will not detract from the groomed look.

The attache case or brief case and luggage that a man carries is as much a part of his outfit as his shoes or coat. The best advice in purchasing leather or leather-like accessories is to purchase the finest quality one can afford.

The popular silk pocket squares are another accessory item that can do a lot for any outfit. Some men with a liking for precision prefer the sets where the pocket square exactly matches the tie. Others show their individuality and sophistication by relating the pocket square to the outfit rather than using the same silk as that in the tie.

There are now foulard pocket squares in the same color combinations but in different designs from the twill or rep ties in the set.

The colored squares are correctly worn with business suits, sports outfits and dinner suits (tuxedos). Any lively color or pattern can be worn.

The average term served in prison by a convicted counterfeiter is 22 months or about half the average sentence.
